

Belinda Wagner

MBA, IMM, CMSA, ACMA, Member of COMENSA, Qualified Facilitator, Assessor and Moderator, Chartered Marketer, Certified Ennea Practitioner and Team Facilitator. Belinda is currently completing her Doctorate in Business Leadership focusing on Marketing. She holds the role a chairperson of two non-profit organisations Diamonds Women's Network and Living with Cancer.

With over 25 years of strategic and tactical marketing management experience, she facilitates in the fields of marketing, customers services and business communication for various local and international business schools, providing participants with a comprehensive overview of marketing and its various elements. Belinda has a love for learning which is evident in her approach as a facilitator, assessor and lecturer.

Her industry experience comes from being a freelance marketing consultant who works closely with her clients assisting, planning and driving marketing strategies. Passionate about people and growth, she uses her skills as coach to assist her clients with their development on an individual and corporate bases.

As an executive and life coach she is influential, persuasive and dynamic with an unwavering sense of determination. It is these traits that enable her to assist individuals to work through issues that may be inhibiting their growth and then skilfully guides them in the development and realisation of goals on both a business and personal level. She believes in taking clients on a journey of self-awareness and discovery that leads to both personal and professional success.

Described as influential, persuasive, communicative, optimistic, inquisitive, competitive, self-motivated and dynamic, Belinda has an unwavering sense of determination to achieve goals.